Breaking and making traditions made Homecoming 1967 different from the years before. For the first time, a giant U.High pennant was auctioned to the highest bidding class. The seniors showed their wealth by collecting eighty three dollars and winning the pennant. In the Friday afternoon parade, the winning float called "Our Boys Will Shine Tonight" followed the theme of Homecoming, "Summer Sunset". The winning Junior homerooms 41 and 43 proved to have outshone them all. Following the parade, U High held its first tricycle race in the parking lot behind the school. Each class and the faculty were represented by three contestants. Junior Greg West left the others behind in the last bend and went on to win the race. At the football game that night, U High's team made homecoming an even more exciting event by beating Clinton 26-12. Instead of the usual dance band at the Homecoming Dance, the fast combo, "The Lykes of Us," played to the fast dancing of the students and alumni. The crowning of Queen Jane Meyer and Kink Kent Taulbee highlighted the evening.

THE LYKES OF US introduced a new type of music for a homecoming dance.

Wilder Play

LESLIE MANRING AND Ellen Crawford have differences.

The U High drama department under the direction of Mr. Connolly presented Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth."

The play deals with the Antrobus family—a family that symbolically represents all of mankind. And just as man seems to be able to get himself into all sorts of scrapes, so do the Antrobuses. The family suffers through the ice age, the deluge and a war, but in keeping with Wilders optomistic viewpoint of man, they always bounce back.

Mr. Antrobus was portrayed by Jeff Hulet and his wife was played by Lesley Manring. The Antrobus children were portrayed by Vicki Harden and Jim Steele. The family maid, Sabina, who turns up at every event in the Antrobus saga, was played by Ellen Crawford. The fortune teller who forsees the deluge and warns the family in time is Karen Mercier.

A large supporting cast also participated in this fall play.

"Marriage Proposal" Second in Corn Belt

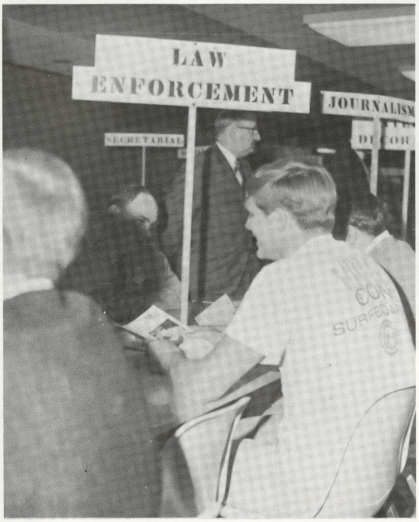
AS HIS GIRLFRIEND POUTS, Jeff Rogers tries to explain something to her.

One of the many speech contests that the U High Speech Team competed in was the Corn Belt Conference held on January 20 in Pontiac.

"A Marriage Proposal" by Anton Chekhov was U High's entry. It concerned the proposal problems of a man. The man was portrayed by Jeff Rogers. The girl was Leslie Gnagey and the father was played by Gary Lanier.

The play placed second in the competition. Miss Judith Williams directed "A Marriage Proposal".

Career Conference Held in April



AT THE LAW ENFORCEMENT station Dan Bates obtains reliable information concerning a possible career.

Another first for U High this year was the Career Night held on April 25. This Career Night was designed to give students, parents, and teachers a chance to receive authoritative information on the wide selection of today and tomorrow's careers.

Tables and chairs were set up in the gym and lounge areas to provide each person with a special post in his field of interest where students could discuss privately their questions and ideas.

Students received many facts from the different stations and it is hoped that many more career conferences will be held in the future.

THIS ASSEMBLAGE OF TABLES and men helped many people understand certain jobs of the working class.

Giant flowers and toadstools, ultra-sized cards, and huge wooden chair for pictures set a fantasy world of "Through the Looking Glass," in which couples swayed to the music of The Dave Holcomb Quintet.

The committee chairmen for the dance included: Margaret Romersberger and Chris Bellas —Decorations, Mary Jo Mercier—Invitations, Ninon Hentz and Jackie Sears—Publicity, Kerry Crist—Pictures, and Terry Hacket—Tickets and Bids. Mabel Lum, sophomore class president served as overall chairman for the event.

Formals and suits didn't stop couples from dancing to faster music, however, attendants still swayed romantically to the soft, slow tunes characteristic of formals.

Hertel Elected Mr. Whipped

Goodie Day, Slave Day, White Socks Day, Dress Up Day, and Clash Day were the special days of Twirp Week. Saturday night closed the week's events with one of the most successful dances of the year. The American Walkers provided the music. Many hippy and psychedelic posters covered the walls as a part of the decorations based on the modern generation. Following the tradition of Twirp, all the boys were presented with corsages made by their dates. The highlight of the dance came with the announcement of Mr. Whipped, Chris Hertel, who was chosen with money votes by the student body. Chris was presented a dog leash for use on his date with Connie Richardson.

"To Paris by Balloon"

"To Paris by Balloon" set the mood for the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet at the University Union Ballroom. Mr. Lewis Legg was honored by being selected as the guest speaker at the banquet. As a part of tradition, Julia Houghton and Tom Thetard were crowned queen and king of the Prom dance. The queen's court was made up of Mary Jo Welcome, Jane Meyer, Nancy Steele, Mary Nelson and Mary Lum. Kent Taulbee, Chris Hertel, Jack Neal, Steve Gustus, and Vince Lott served as the king's court. From one to four in the morning, everyone went to the 4-Seasons Club to dance to the Band X, swim, ice skate and play games. Pictures were taken of couples behind a seaside scene. Imagination Proved Speeches, posters, skits, and themes varied widely, showing the talents of many hard working students for the campaign of next year's Student Council officers. Skits were based on such varied topics as the movie "Bonnie and Clyde", the life of Abraham Lincoln, Mother Goose and the T.V. shows "Johnny Carson" and "Rowan and Martin Laugh-In". The major problem of our school presented by the candidates was communication of the Student Council with the students. Opposing each other for president were Dave Clark and John Wettaw. Steve Carlyon and Jeff Oberman competed for vice-president. Vicki Harden and Sally Brooks ran for secretary and Vicki Venker and Karen Wroan were candidates for treasurer. Not long after Dave Clark, Jeff Oberman, Sally Brooks, and Karen Wroan were elected to office, they began planning the activities for next year's Student Council.

Variety Show a Big Success

A Variety Show was tried this year as a fund raising project for Harlequins. The money was used to pay the travelling expenses of the Speech Team. Students volunteered their various acting skills which included singing, pantomiming, dancing, and speaking. Vince Lott and Jack Neal were the Masters of Ceremonies.

Some memorable highlights of U High's Variety Show were: Sara Romersberger's award winning Boxing Act, an original monologue; "On the Good Ship Lollipop" sung by the Little Girls, Nan Wade, Robin Norris, and Jeanne Kendall; Vicki Harden's dance routine with her shadow, Mr. Connolly, to the music of "Me and My Shadow"; Leslie Manring's medley of love songs; and a few folk songs sung by the Seven Seas.

Seniors Skip to Lake of the Woods

For the first time in several years, seniors were permitted to skip out of town on Senior Skip Day. They decided to spend their legal day from school at Lake of the Woods. The Senior Class traveled by bus to Lake of the Woods.

In spite of the threat of rain, the seniors went ahead with most of their plans. Although the lake proved to be too cold to swim in, many found it not too cold to sun bathe.

The more energetic ones preferred to play softball or golf. Others spent their time in the paddle boats.

DEAN MARTIN (KENT TAULBEE) introduces his special mystery guest, Mr. Legg.

Class Night was a night of laughing and crying. The seniors entertained the other classes in several skits. This year they presented "The Growan and Rotten Chuckle-Out Show". It consisted of take-offs from the "Captain Kangaroo Show," "Mission Impossible", "Art Linkletter Show", "Johnny Carson", and the "Late, Late, Late Movies." It wasn't until the finale when all the seniors got on stage and sang the sentimental theme song from "The Carol Burnett Show" that they became serious.

Announced as valedictorian was John Braden. Chris Carroll was named salutatorian. In appreciation the seniors presented Mr. Connolly and Miss Alexander with gifts. To the school they gave a portable speaker's podium.

The most serious and formal point of the evening was the "moving up of classes". The incoming freshmen were given a standing ovation as they slowly marched into the freshmen class seats.

About one-hundred and seventy seniors listened as Dr. Jack R. Sibley gave the Baccalaureate Address on June 2. Dr. Sibley of the University Christian Church talked about "Frontiers of the Future".

The U High chorus sang two numbers, "The Road Not Taken", adapted from the poem by Robert Frost and Beethoven's "Hallelujah", and the congregation participated in two other numbers, "America the Beautiful" and "For the Beauty of the Earth".

Following the Vesper Service, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lovelass held a reception at the ISU Union for the seniors and their parents.

The Senior Girls Ensemble sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and David Barford played "Adagio and Allegro" for Horn and Piano.

Dr. Harry D. Lovelass presented the diplomas to the 164 graduates. Immediately afterwards, the graduates were congratulated in the lounge.

Work for the custodians and office workers was more difficult because University High School had an increasing number of students, 708, during 1967-68.

Computers helped in some of this work. The Honor Roll and report cards were processed with the help of office secretaries and IBM.

One also remembers the voice announcing important messages over the intercom.

The Graduating Class of 1968 . . .

From the first days of school in the old U High to those last days of their freshman year, these people were always there to lend their help and enthusiasm. They always knew just where they stood in the eyes of others and were always proud to say they went to U High.

Experience was the calling card of the senior class when they were sophomores. Members of this class achieved much. But most of all, they have gained these things through their own personal efforts and many times their own desires.

When they were juniors, the Class of 1968 used past experiences to execute new ideas. These new ideas are now producing unlimiting results.

Through the enthusiasm of their freshman year, the experience from their sophomore year, and the new ideas that they brought forth their junior year, the Class of 1968 was able to accomplish much, thus making their last year at U High a very memorable one.

SAR AND DAR award winners were Jack Neal and Chris Carroll.

LEADING THE SENIORS through their last year were: Kent Taulbee, President; Debbie Lair, Treasurer; Bob Turner, Vice-President; and Chris Carroll, Secretary.

Legg Leaves U High

Dr. Harry D. Lovelass, Director

Reorganization within Illinois State University caused further reorganization in University High School. This reorganization and change could be seen in every phase of school, even in the smallest unit—the student of University High School.

Changes in class time, books, and teachers proved that the administration was aware of the growing needs for reorganization in a growing school and in changing times.

Adopting a module system was only one way in which U High changed.

Mr. Lewis L. Legg accepted a new position as Director of Safety on the ISU campus. He was replaced during the second semester by Mr. Bernard Waren.

Literary Analysis

FRESHMEN ARE always eager to enter into discussions in Mrs. Satterfield's class.

This year the U High English Department added three new faces, Miss Edwards, Mrs. Satterfield, and Mrs. Bass.

At the freshmen level the first year of a two year department study was completed. Results are to be published at the study's completion.

In his English III class, Mr. Parmantie tried a new approach to "American-English" grammar. The students used a new transformational grammar text for the whole year. Then second semester, Mr. Parmantie tried a comparison of grammar texts within his Pre-college Grammar class.

Last year a new course was offered by the English Department—Senior Literary Analysis. In previous years it had been a special section of English IV.

In the past grammar and literature have been according to the semester. This last year, however, the study of language, composition, and literature have been integrated on all levels.

Modules Increase

Cries of excitement were heard echoing down the halls of U High last spring. They were traced to biology students who were going on the annual biology field trip. There had been a change in destination, and the students weren't going to go to Chicago to the Field Museum, as was done in the past. Due to the size of the group and the increased number of students who have already seen the museum, Mr. Moore and Mr. Carlock decided to take their classes to the Indiana Dunes.

A new science organization was added to our school last year during second semester. It was the University High School Biological Honor Society.

The Physics and Chemistry classes were busy with their experiments, and the programs were similar to that of the previous year.

The Freshmen Science program took on a new and different look. The new textbook, Interaction of Matter and Energy, stressed work in the laboratory and discovery of scientific principles by the students.

MR. SCHMIDT RELATES the culture of a nation to its language.

Rien dans la vie est a craindre, seulement a comprendre" which means "Nothing in life is to be feared, only to be understood" is a quotation from the French scientist Marie Curie. This can also apply to a foreign language today. It shouldn't have to be feared, only understood, and many U High students do understand a foreign language. At the present 289 U High students are enrolled in a foreign language. Just 5 years ago Latin was the leading language at U High, but today the French students outnumber the other languages with Spanish enrollment coming in second. German and Russian were first offered at U High in 1962, and today they contain almost half of the students that take a foreign language. Going on field trips, seeing films, reading novels, acting out skits and learning the history and culture of a country are just some of the many experiences gained when studying a foreign language at U High.

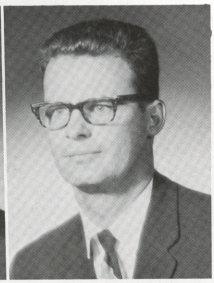
Mr. Warren Quensel, Driver Education

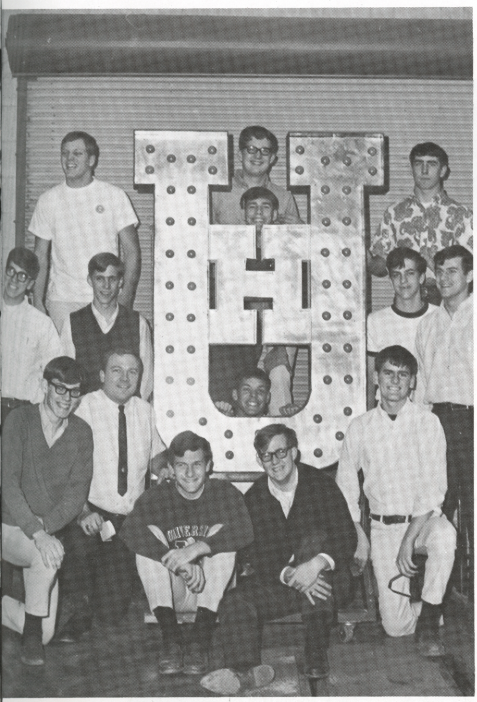


Mr. Perry Young, Metalworking and Graphic Arts

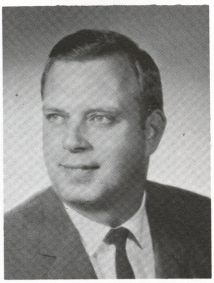
One of the more memorable events of the year at U-High was provided by The Industrial Arts Club. They constructed and presented a "Victory Light" to the school.

A new project was introduced in the Woodworking classes this year. One class spent first semester on individual projects, while the other class set up a manufacturing situation. In this manufacturing system the boys learned how an industry actually worked.

A training unit was developed in the Driver's Education classes. This program concerned visual perceptions. Flashing numbers, signs, and traffic scenes on the movie screen was the method that was used to increase the future driver's defensive driving abilities. The objectives of this program were to increase the span of recognition and to improve the students' ability to detect traffic hazards.



INDUSTRIAL ARTS STUDENTS contributed a victory light to U High.



Mr. Richard Litherland, Agriculture

One of the most active departments in the school is the speech department. This year a woman speech instructor, Miss Williams, was added to the department's faculty, and Mr. Ray Fisher received his doctorate at The University of Illinois.

In discussion and debate, students debated the question of law and police authority.

In addition to hosting two tournaments, the U-High speech students attended tournaments at five high schools and two universities. Both debate and speech teams attended conference, sectional tournaments, and state finals.

Drama students studied Shakespeare plays and other literature. They also attended various plays at ISU.

Mr. Fischer and Mr. Connolly are sponsors of these students.

Many speech students participated in the full-length fall and spring plays as well as in the one-acts during the winter.

Fine Arts Departments Achieve Goals

Containing half of the student body the music and art departments were very active during the year.

Chorus and orchestra students, taught by Mr. Miller performed a variety of pieces by different composers, which were composed during different time periods. From the chorus, a new group of Madrigal Singers were formed.

Mr. Whited directed the band at football games, pep assemblies, and concerts. The major portion of the year, however, was spent in concert and contest preparation for winter and spring.

Students found that art had changed in many ways this year. Even the teacher was different. Mr. Norris was the new art instructor.

In the art classes student observers played a very important part this year. Each observer gave a lecture and demonstration. The lectures illustrated many different art techniques. Ideas on class projects were sometimes new, as all winter long students wished for snow. They were going to create snow sculptures.

New Typing Course Offered by Business Ed.

For college-bound students, a new type of typing course was offered this year by the Business Education Department. The course, personal typing, was offered for one module a day for two semesters. All other typing courses, Typing I, II, III, were held for three modules so students could complete their homework in class. Having the longer period for these courses was also new this year. Another new addition to the Business Education Department was a course in salesmanship which lasted for one semester. Learning the value of good grooming was one of the objectives in Office Practice. There was an increase in the number of students taking bookkeeping this year compared to previous years. Bookkeeping students learned how to operate the key punch and the adding machine correctly.

"Around the World With Fashions" was the theme of the very successful fashion show held in late January. It was presented by the clothing classes. All the creations were modeled and made by members of the classes. Highlights of the food classes were the annual Christmas tea for the Home Economics I students and their guests and a Mother-Daughter Banquet planned and prepared by the second year home economics students and the Future Homemakers of America. Accompanied with guest lectures and movies, the Home Economics III girls had an interesting and informative unit on international foods. The grand finale of the home furnishings class was a trip to Chicago where the girls visited the Merchandise Mart.

Students Learn Mathematical Logic

Continuation, revision, and experimentation were the "x,y,z symbols" for the Mathematics Department during 1967-68.

Continued use of experimental books, video tapes, and units in mathematical logic prevailed. In the summer session, accelerated and enrichment courses were continued.

The unit in mathematical logic was revised and taught to a number of geometry classes. A revised edition of an experimental algebra book from the previous year was used in one Algebra class.

Experimentation in learning was a happening. The math department worked with Special Education in the teaching of mathematics. Further experimentation was seen in the development of the module system. Class time was extended in some math classes to three modules or 90 minutes.

Decision Making Emphasized in Social Studies

The Social Science Department experimented with new materials and ideas such as booklets and films and new teaching techniques as a part of the New Social Studies. The emphasis was on decision-making that involves facts, skills, opinions and value judgments.

For the third year, Mr. Gray continued to test new materials and teaching strategies in the teaching of World History.

In U.S. History, the use of source material was emphasized. Students learned to refer to actual documents rather than referring to other people's opinions. Some of Miss Alexander's U.S. History classes participated in role playing. Students played the part of important people in our history. In this way they actually experienced the thoughts, viewpoints and actions of the person they played.

Two new teachers were added to the department, Mr. Kenneth Miller and Mr. Ralph Eakins.

Due to the change in the faculty in the Girls P.E. Department many new and different ideas confronted the girls of U High. The new teachers in the Girl's P.E. Department were Miss Baldwin, Miss Frossard, Miss Gray and Mrs. Keeley.

Freshman and sophomore P.E. classes had co-rec folk dances, and the junior and senior classes had co-rec volleyball.

Skill was the key to P.E. this year. Girls performed new skill tests. In hockey, tennis, table tennis and badminton, the skills the girls had acquired made the competition more exciting.

For some girls, P.E. skills carried through to intramural sports. After school and at night sessions on hockey and gymnastics were included in this intramural program.

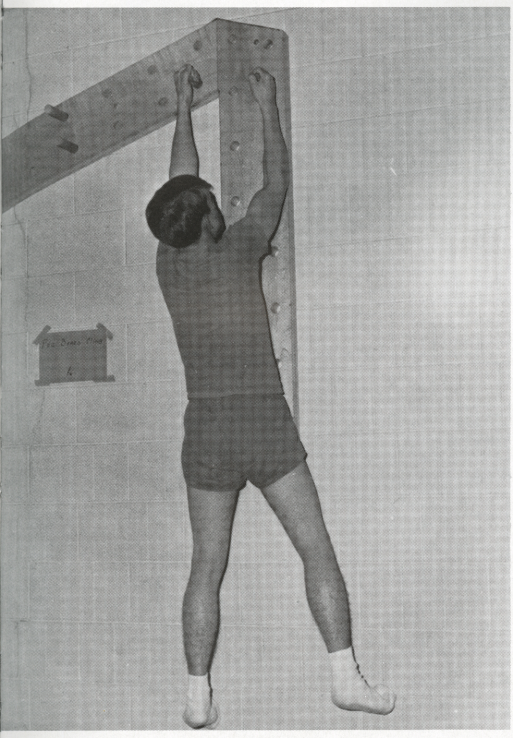
Co-Rec Activities Added to P.E. Classes



THE PEG BOARD CLIMB was one of the many conditioners used in boys P.E.

By increasing the size of the special education program in Boys' P.E., the idea of P.E. for all students was emphasized. A total of twelve boys and girls made up the special education P.E. class. The class was made up of blind, post-polio and post-operative students. Their activities were table tennis, darts, badminton, swimming, bowling, volleyball and shuffleboard. These activities were adapted so that all could participate.

Co-rec activities were again started in some classes. For the first time in this building, the freshmen boys got together with the girls for square and round dancing. Juniors and seniors participated in co-rec volleyball. Plans for future co-rec activities include golf, tennis and swimming.

Because of their use in everyday life, recreational sports such as golf, tennis and badminton continued to be taught to the boys.

"The 1967 football team is one of the finest teams U-High has seen. But it is only an example for the teams of the coming years, as an achievable goal." This was the comment given by Coach Frank Chiodo on the success of University High's outstanding football team.

In spite of injuries, the footballers constantly played great ball. By accumulating an 8-0-1 record, U-High had a perfect season with only a tie to arch-rival Normal Community. The season's opener with Monticello started the pace with a 7-0 victory. The following game resulted in a Pioneer victory over Bloomington High, ending a nine year hex.

The team compiled an impressive list of team and individual awards. The gridders won the Corn Belt Conference Championship and shared the Intercity title with Normal Community. Les Armes, Eric Bates, Jack Neal, Vince Lott, and Tom Thetard made the All-Intercity and All-Conference teams with Bob Scott joining them on the All-Conference team. Honorable Mention in the Conference team and Intercity team went to Bob Eft, Dan Gould, Chris Hertel, and Dan Bates. Golden Helmet Award winners included Vince Lott, Tom Thetard, and Les Armes. Vince Lott was chosen the Outstanding Intercity Player of the year and was voted by the team along with Jack Neal as the Most Valuable Players.

Sophs Also Undefeated on the Gridiron

Coming out of their second undefeated season, the Sophomore football team finished with a 6-0-1 record. This fine record complimented their freshman record of 7-0, making a total two year mark of 13 wins, no losses, and 1 tie. The tie was to Bloomington, and Coach Scott stated, "Bad breaks allowed them to tie us." Dr. Scott also stated that several football teams have been undefeated their freshman year, but as far as he knew, the sophs were the first team in a long time to be undefeated in two consecutive seasons.

The immediate future for the Pioneers on the Gridiron looks bright, if the sophs have anything to say about it.

TIM McCARTHY struggles for the ball during the regional games with Central Catholic.

It was the year of the sleeping giant at University High School, as the Pioneer hoopsters finished a slow season by taking the regional championship.

The early part of the season boasted a winning streak of 5 games, but things slowed to a loss of 5 games in a row. Disappointed in his 4-8 conference record, Coach Robert Metcalf said, "We didn't win the close ones."

The end of the season found the wakening of the sleeping giant. After losing twice to Normal and Central Catholic, the giant went to the regional and smashed both teams.

Kent Taulbee, described by Coach Metcalf as "the most consistent player," set records in rebounding and was elected to the Intercity all-star first string. Seniors Jack Neal and Chris Hertel were elected to the second team. Chris Wiant and Vince Lott, also seniors, posted good seasons. Juniors Tim McCarthy and Tom Eddy will play an important part in next year's season.

They championed over the Lincoln and U High Invitationals, Corn Belt Conference, and District. The grappling Pioneers took second at the Sectional, and sixth at the State. Their only defeat in dual competition came at the hands of Thorton of Harvey.

Co-captains and co-most valuable players, Les Armes and Eric Bates won every possible title and both lost only one match at the state tournament, placing third.

Other outstanding seniors were: Roger Donovan, Dan Bates, Ed Miller, and Bruce Bown. Next year's squad will boast of Greg West, Jim Neal, next year's co-captains; Dan Satorius and Bob Scott.

The 1967-68 harriers under the supervision of Coach Mike Macesich found their way to Corn-Belt conference championship for the third year in a row.

Much of the teams success is due largely to the efforts of Doug Warlow, a senior who placed first in eleven out of 13 meets, placing second in the remaining two. Doug led the team by placing first in Corn Belt and the U High Invitational, third in District and forty-ninth in state. Doug's efforts were augmented by junior Tibor Horvath, seniors Mark Harris, Todd Miller, and Steve Gustus.

Next year's team will be spirited by Tibor, and sophomores, Tim Winterroth, John Gilmore, and Bill Ralph.

The cindermen drew a three-thirds for their 1968 season; the Corn Belt, Intercity, and Morton Relay titles. The U High track team, coached by George Girardi, defeated 7 of the 10 teams they faced in dual or triangular competition.

Doug Warlow, a senior, broke his own record in the mile at U High and set a new record at the Corn Belt. He was also 5th in the District and championed at the Pantagraph Area Meet.

Kent Taulbee, also a senior, set the Corn Belt record for the discus. He took 3rd in the Pantagraph Area Meet and 5th in the District.

Another athlete who broke his own record is junior, Tibor Horvath, who set the new two-mile record.

Other records came in the mile relay and the 880 Fresh-Soph relay. Both were set by Bruce Kasch, Rick Thompson, Dean Cooper, Dan Stephanson (mile) and Dave Braden (880).

Baseballers Gain Experience

The baseball squad did not attain the quality set by many of the other sports this year. The reason for this was the lack of experience of the team members. The team's only win was over Washington early in the season. Senior Jack Neal, the most valuable player and captain, aided the team as catcher. Bruce Brown, also a senior, led the team in hitting with a .312 average.

Student Council Studies School Rules

First semester Student Council served as guides for Homecoming, United Fund, and Intercity Visitation Day and Dance. Many ideas and problems, such as charging admission for all-school parties, solving the pep bus situation, studying last year's experimental study halls and improving student conduct at assemblies were discussed at meetings.

During the second semester, Student Council established an amendment to the Constitution, planned a Visitation Day for incoming freshmen; had a very successful AFS assembly and drive, and held a Council picnic for both semester Council members.

SERVING AS STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS for the year 1967-68 were Leland Thomas, vice-president; Lesley Manring, treasurer; Todd Miller, president; and Nancy Steele, secretary.

U High Enjoys Julia Houghton

CHRIS AND HER "SISTERS" enjoy a sunny day in Greece.

Dear U High,

The summer of 1967 will always be a memorable one for me. During those few months I became a part of another family and culture. My life was one of a typical Greek teenager living in Iraklion, Crete. My second family consists of five people. The father owns and operates a small candy store. The mother lives like most ordinary housewives taking care of her house and family. The two girls attend school (which is different in some ways but much like ours). The last member of the Kioupolis family is a little boy, Hippocrates.

My days were spent swimming, playing tennis, going to the movies and parties and talking to everyone. The Greeks are great conversationalists, using any opportunity to begin talking. I met many new people and in time made many new but lifelong friends.

Going to and from Irakleon I had the chance to visit many different European countries—Holland, Turkey, France, Germany, and of course, more of Greece.

My experiences would not have been possible without your participation in the program. I thank you again for letting me do a small part towards world peace knowing that by helping me you are doing something towards this ultimate goal, too.

From a Greek at heart,
Chris Carroll

Dear U High,

How can I ever thank you enough for my wonderful year with you? I know that my A.F.S. experience will last me a life time and I am sincerely confident that this program is a great step towards international peace and understanding. I have learned much more about you than one could ever learn from a book, and your country has become my second home.

I love each one of you for your open hearts and generous dispositions and know that, even if I forget individuals, I will never forget U High and American kids. You will always be a part of me and everyone I come into contact with. Thank you.

Peace on earth,
Julia B. A. Houghton

JULIA HOUGHTON SERVED as a perfect A.F.S. student from England.

Cheerleaders Cheer, Charm,

Working hard to maintain good sportsmanship among students and faculty, the cheerleaders rooted our team to victories. Making up new cheers and reviving old ones, the cheerleaders kept up the spirit. With new uniforms the girls had an incentive to cheer even harder.

Leading the Freshmen teams to victories were Maribeth Allen, Chris Thomson, and Sara Metcalf.

The Frosh-Soph cheerleaders were Marsha Blager, Margaret Romersberger, Julie Anderson, and Jodie Davis.

Jane Meyer, captain, led the varsity cheerleaders; Mary Nelson, Nan Wade, Jane Legg, Sara Romersberger, and Karen Mercier, the alternate. The cheerleaders never failed in leading the spectators through victories and defeats.

CHEERLEADERS KAREN MERCIER and Sara Romersberger cheer Pioneers onto their regional tournament victory.

Hard work and many hours were spent on this yearbook. Heading the team of workers was Ruth Miller, Editor-in-Chief. Her goal this year was to have a metal seal on the cover of this book. This goal was rather hard on the budget, but with the help of Karen Wroan, the business editor, and her staff, enough money was raised to have the seal.

Mary Jo Welcome, the lay-out editor, worked closely with Laurie Simms, the copy editor, to make each page the best possible.

Clarionette Publishes

Variety in content added to our 1967-1968 newspaper, the CLARIONETTE. Different types of stories and ingenious picture pages brightened up the paper. Among these new varieties were Becky Brubaker's "Council Capsule," "Hi Teach," more outspoken editorials, student interviews, and "Junk From Julie" by Julie Steele. (The length of this column threw copyreaders, Eileen Kelly and Becky Brubaker, into fits of anguish every deadline.)

Publication was more frequent until our printer went out of business, and we had to find another one.

Editor Susan Winterroth's biggest dream was a red and green eight page, Christmas issue and it came true! Another new addition this year was the sale of ads to raise money. Many stores and businesses now advertise in the CLARIONETTE.

Jerry Wells, Vic Ryberg, and Chris Wiant, photographers (?), developed the picture page into an artful creation. Our basketball heroes literally became 'stars' and UHS school spirit came alive in pictures throughout the year.

With all these new elements the CLARIONETTE took on an exciting role at U. High and a brighter future for 1968-1969.

To become better informed about Germany and its culture in the relaxed social atmosphere of the club meetings and to contribute to the service projects and general social life of the high school were the main objectives of the German Club.

This year the Latin Club tried to gain a wider appreciation and understanding of the Greek and Roman world. This was done through films, lectures, and filmstrips.

The French Club engaged in many activities this year. They sponsored a Mardi Gras celebration, French movies, and a picnic. These activities helped to achieve the purpose of the club in learning about the cultural activities associated with France and the French.

The Spanish Club promoted Pan American Day and a Spanish Speech Contest for schools within the area. To encourage interest and participation in Spanish classes, and to provide social and outside language activities for students in Spanish. The Spanish Club went on a picnic and played Spanish soccer. They attended a performance of The Man From LaMancha while they were on their Chicago trip.

Under the direction of Mr. Miller, chorus could possibly be called one of the most active organizations in the school.

During the Christmas Season the chorus members presented their annual Christmas Concert, an assembly with the dramatics class, and a program at Wesleyan.

On April 20th, the music students traveled to Pekin to participate in the IHSA Music Contest. Four chorus members received superiors on their vocal solos. They were Lesley Manring, Libby Sears, Connie Carnine, and Kent Taulbee. Two girl's ensembles and the Madrigals group also rated superior.

In May, the chorus presented their annual Spring Concert. Soloists and ensembles sang their contest selections. The Illinois Official State Song, was sung in honor of the state's Sesquicentennial, and the University High School Hymn was sung in honor of President Braden's inauguration.

To end their year of singing, the chorus sang Beethoven's "Hallelujah" and "A Road Not Taken," adapted from the poem by Robert Frost at Baccalaureate.

University High School students witnessed for the first time in ten years an assembly devoted to the school's band. Mr. Whited started the assembly by explaining to the students correct etiquette that should be followed when attending concerts. The band members followed him with several outstanding numbers. The marching band performed at football games, city parades, and as usual led the homecoming parade. The Pep Band was honored by playing at the Illinois State Supersectional Tournament held at Horton Field House besides playing at pep assemblies and basketball games.

The Prairie Bells ended their second year of existence much better and more popular than the year before. "The Prairie Dogs," as the girls call themselves, were seen at football games, basketball games and pep assemblies.

Fall brought two festivals for the orchestra to participate in, the Bloomington String Festival for the string section of the orchestra and the District Number Three Festival held in Kankakee, Illinois. The thirty-six member orchestra presented two concerts, A Christmas program with the chorus and one in May with the band.

MAJORETTE BONNIE JOHNSON aided the marching band.

To increase school spirit and promote enthusiastic support of athletic teams was the main objective of the Pep Club. For the first time a male was elected president of the club. The members used their spare time to think up colorful slogans for posters and to plan humorous pep assemblies. The club also held a booster sale and sold stickers. They raised money for the pep bus by holding bake sales during lunch hours. They ended the year by sponsoring the TWIRP dance.

The David Gipson History Club, formerly YCCI, was sponsored by Miss Alexander. Since this year was the sesquicentennial of Illinois, the club was concerned mainly with Illinois History. The year ended with a picnic dinner for members and parents.

National Honor Society is a select group picked from upperclassmen to promote and recognize scholarship, leadership, service, and character. They serve the school by tutoring students in all types of studies. This year their service included reading to blind special education students. In the spring, eight students were initiated into Honor Society. They are: Shelley Brian, Dave Clark, Ellen Crawford, Cindy Hicklin, Jeff Hulet, Camilla Hull, Bob McCoy, and Vicki Venker.

The speech team participated in a total of 13 tournaments and took first place in the following: ISU Invitational, U. High Invitational, Octavia Invitational, Cornbelt Conference, District Tournament, and Sectional Tournament. This was quite an accomplishment for the team. Debra DeWerff placed eighth in the state for serious reading while Karen Smith took a second for oratorical declamation.

Harlequins were headed by Ellen Crawford; President, Julie Steele; Vice-President, Jeff Hulet; Secretary, Cindy Hicklin; Treasurer, and Linda Mizer; Historian. They had many fine programs throughout the year and this years special project was a variety show.

The National Forensic League, headed by Leland Thomas, initiated 20 new members this year. Their membership now stands at 38.

Varsity debaters Leland Thomas, Jim Pohlmann, Doug Poe, and Bill Waren sported an outstanding season this year. The team tied for first in the sectional where Jim Pohlmann was chosen Best Speaker. In the State, the team got a 5-2 rating.

To bring together students who are currently studying business subjects, to inform them of the business world and prepare them for their part in the future is the purpose of FBLA. This purpose was fulfilled this year by having secretaries and businessmen at the program meetings once a month. The members entertained youngsters from the Lucy Morgan Children's Home and had a Christmas pot luck dinner. They also attended an area conference and the state convention.

F.H.A. sponsored a Can-Can Dance in which the contributions of food and money were given to a needy family. A Daddy-Date Nite was held in March and in April a Mother-Daughter Banquet was held. The year ended in May when a tea was held for the incoming freshmen. The Crisco Homemaking Award went to Jackie Thomas.

Chess Club's main activity this year was an all-school chess tournament. With a limit of 21 participants, the first, second, and third place winners received chess sets. Chess Club was to help students learn how to play chess or make better chess players of students who already knew how. Faculty sponsor was Mr. Donald Thompson.

To promote an interest in science as a vocation or an avocation was the purpose of the Major Powell Science Club. Listening to guest speakers, giving reports, and going on a field trip to Turkey Run with the experimental biology class helped to fulfill their purpose. With all these activities, the members learned about rock and mineral specimens and how to cut them, tropical fish, embalming, and computers.

Writing a constitution was the main activity of the U. High Chapter of National High School Biology Honor Society. This was the first year for the society. The ten charter members established plans for programs and activities, and determined the policy for induction of future members.

Members of the Camera Club learned and enjoyed much by studying the art of photography this year. In May the club entered contestants in a snap shot contest. Another special activity consisted of studying more of color processing techniques.

The main objective of the Classical Music Club was to get a deeper appreciation and understanding of all periods of music. The club met and discussed what one should listen for at a concert, and how to detect special effects as the background composer. They put their understanding to use by attending concerts and then evaluating them. Mr. Gabriel Baumgardner was the faculty sponsor.

Camera Club: Row 1: Jim Baker, Matthew Seniff, Jerry Wells, Dick McGeath, Paul Kuntz. Row 2: Kenneth Kuntz, Robert M. Turner, Danny Bates, Vic Ryberg, Mr. Young.

All letter winners in sports are eligible to belong to the U Club. The purpose of the club is to recognize the achievements of the outstanding athletes in our school. All new members had to go through a week of initiation. On Visitation Day, U Club sponsored a coke party for the incoming freshmen to acquaint them with the boys in the school.

To add to the spirit of the football and basketball games, the Industrial Arts Club donated a victory light to the school. Whenever a field goal or a basket was made its green and gold lights could be seen flashing on and off. Another major activity of the Industrial Arts Club was to print and sell U High Student Directories. They include the address and telephone numbers of all students and faculty plus pictures of the class officers. Profits from their sales paid for the club's pizza party. Two field trips were taken; one to a Caterpillar plant in Peoria and the other to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.
